Dr. Hendershot, Fall Revival Evangelist

Dr. H. Harvey Hendershot, district superintendent of the West Virginia district, will be the evangelist for the annual fall revival which will be held September 30 through October 7. Dr. Hendershot came to Trevecca at the age of fourteen where he finished high school and attended college. Also he attended the West Virginia Institute of Technology.

Dr. Hendershot

During the commencement service of last June he received the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Trevecca. Before being elected district superintendent of the West Virginia District in 1958 he served in the pastorate for twenty years in West Virginia and was active in district work, having held several district offices.

A busy man, Dr. Hendershot is an avid coin collector, a golfer, and owns and operates his own plane. Dr. Hendershot and his wife, the former Maxine Moore, have one son, Jim, sixteen years old and a senior in high school. Mrs. Hendershot is the sister of Carolyn Estep, a TNC student.

Choral Groups Are Chosen

After a great deal of deliberation, selections of choir members were made and announced. The willingness to work and ability to maintain a C average were considered as well as the ability to sing well. Selected as members of the A Cappella Choir are: I Soprano: Natalie Clayton, Suzanna McManus, Dianne Peters, Linda Ranson, Sandra Smith; II Soprano: Lynda Faye Arender, Judy Brooks, Susan Marlowe, Beverly Moore, Sharon Norrick, Jan Osborne; I Alto: Eugenia Cloud, Barbara Johnson, Roslyn Marlin, Marita Sue Slifer, Nancy Thaxton; II Alto: Janie Austin, Phoebe Bowne, Rena Huggins, Carol Johnson, Karen Salser, Carol Anne Stone; I Tenor: Jerry Huff, Larry Huggins, Steven Oliver, Frank Packer, Larry Woodward; II Tenor: Larry Foster, David Hage, Gary Simmons, Larry Smith; Baritone: Wayne Dollar, Joe Irwin, Jr., Harris Jamison, Jerry Appleby, Larry McCumber, Gene Smith; Bass: Boyd Hoops, Jim Knight, Jess Middendorf, Donald E. Ross, Aubry Smith, Ron Coleman.

Selected as members of the Treble Tone Choir are I Soprano: Marilyn Baldwin, Ann Hawkins, Sarah Hill, Esther Hyatt, Ray Kosher, Linda Linn, Bobby McCleskey, Carol Richardson, Mildred Salee, Jo Ann Spolorich; II Soprano: Sharon Adrian, Sharon Crummer, Sharon Deason, Pam Holt, Ann Jackson, Mary Jo Jenkins, Betty Lacy, Martha Middendorf, Mary Moore, Ann Van Hook, Judy Wiley; Alto: Joyce Bain, Cathy Chilton, Ruth Christensen, Pam Dinkins, Cathryn Gladling, Anita Martin, Sandra Murphree, Norma Parrish, Margie Smith, Lucy Williams.

T. N. C. Initiates 150 Frosh

Freshmen are given orientation tests.

Freshmen arrived early this year, September 5, for freshman orientation with approximately 150 "greenies" taking part. Official activities began the next morning with a brief devotional service. Under the direction of Dr. Wise, dean of students, tests were begun. Exams, choir auditions, dormitory meetings, educational counseling and recreation completed an active week of becoming acquainted with Trevecca.

This week the freshmen have again been orientated but this time by the sophomores. The main theme during the week has been "Peanuts Week." Each freshman has been required to open doors and carry books for the upperclassmen, be familiar with the student handbook and even be able to sing the Alma Mater at the request of a sophomore. Even a nonsensical poem has had to be quoted at the request of a sophomore.

Freshman Recognition Week began Monday with the "Greenies" being paired off as peanut pals. A program was given in their behalf that night. Tuesday, the freshmen were up bright and early at 3:30 to begin their early morning hike. The sophomores made up for this though by giving the freshmen a reception where they served crackers and peanut butter and hot chocolate. Then that night they were given a big party where they served peanuts and water.

On Wednesday even the faculty cooperated. Embarrassing questions were answered by the various professors publicly. Thursday was tacky day and it seemed that everything went backwards.

Today is dress-up day, somewhat a relief to the freshmen. The program tonight should provide an interesting climax, especially to those freshmen who co-operated in this traditional week.

RECENT FACULTY CHANGES

Serving as the new dean of students this year is Dr. F. Franklyn Wise. Guidance and counseling are the highlights of his duties which will include marriage and vocational counseling. Personal development classes and special conferences have become a must in his duties. Records of achievement scores, personality profiles, background, place of work and the progress of each student are kept to aid him in the counseling and guidance for the student's improvement during his college career.

As Director of Personnel Services, Vocational Counsellor, Director of Counseling and a professor, he is well qualified to help students with their problems. Supervision of the dormitories and housing problems as well as supervision of the food services provided and even provision of proper recreational activities are under his direction.

Dr. Wise is a graduate of Eastern Nazarene College and the University of Pittsburgh. He received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1958. Before coming to Trevecca in 1957, he served in the pastorate for thirteen years.

Dr. and Mrs. Wise have two children, Forrest and Martha. Forrest is a freshman at Trevecca this year.

Phillips, Dean of Admissions and Records

Professor Koy Phillips, the previous Dean of Admissions, is now the Dean of Admissions and Records. His work will include what was previously done by the registrar as well as his past duties. Miss Amy Person, the former registrar, will continue to teach in the English department.

Dean Phillips is a graduate of both Trevecca and Middle Tennessee State College and holds graduate degrees from Nazarene Theological Seminary and George Peabody College. He has been on the staff of Trevecca Nazarene College since 1941 with the exception of the three years spent in seminary. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have two children, Ellen and Kathy.

Miss Martha Gray, a former student of TNC, has been engaged as a full-time assistant to Dean Phillips.

Strickland in Religion Department

Our newest addition to the TNC faculty is Rev. William J. Strickland. He is a native of Nashville and a graduate of Trevecca. Prior to his coming to TNC as a student he attended Middle Tennessee State College and spent two years in the Navy.

Professor Strickland is pastor of Benson Memorial Church of the Nazarene in East Nashville, and he is working toward the Ph.D. degree in Vanderbilt University.

Professor Strickland and his wife, Martha, have two children, Billy, seven, and Susan Kay, two.

New Bookstore Manager

Appointed as the new manager of the bookstore is Mr. Jerry Costa. He has previously held the position of high school teacher and principal and assistant dean of students but is now teaching part of humanities, geography, and personal development in college.

Rev. Costa has served as pastor of the Blakemore Church of the Nazarene for fourteen years and is continuing in that capacity.

Mr. Costa graduated first in his graduating class from Trevecca. He has also earned his Masters Degree in Science from Peabody College.

On commenting about his new position, Mr. Costa said that he was "very, very busy, and everything is strange." He also expressed his desire to "make a million dollars" while operating the bookstore.

Was Secretary in War Department

Mr. C. T. Duckett has been appointed as the new secretary to Dr. Mackey. He is replacing Mrs. Mildred McDowell who is now teaching at Whilsett School in Nashville.

Mr. Duckett was the manager of the bookstore for twelve years and a teacher in Trevecca High School. He has previously been employed as a secretary and stenographer in the War Department and holds the position of secretary for the Tennessee District Church of the Nazarene.

Third Leadership Confab Today

"Planning, Preparing, Producing" is the theme for the Student Leadership Conference today at Montgomery Bell State Park Inn. This morning fourteen students and ten faculty members left for the third leadership conference. Two were held last year.

The purpose of the conference today is to gain better understanding between the faculty and students, to understand our problems and discuss them and to help the student body and faculty begin the year with a united purpose.

The conference will begin with a keynote address by Dr. Mackey on "Planning, Preparing, Producing" after which there will be several discussions pertaining to student and business policies and policies and rules concerning the social life of the campus. Jerry Appleby, Student Council secretary, will be in charge of a seminar on the work of the Student Council. After lunch and a recreation period there will be a brief devotional service led by Dr. Childers. Dale Melton, Student Council president, will then be in charge of a seminar on the point system followed by a seminar by Dr. Adams.

A flexible program has been set up in order that each subject might be discussed sufficiently. Miscellaneous items will comprise business, safety measures regarding pedestrians and traffic, and a way to stimulate better attendance at school functions.

Faculty members attending are: Dr. Mackey, Dr. Adams, Dr. Wise, Dr. Childers, Professor Phillips, Rev. Keys, Mr. Richardson, Professor Knight and Professor Unruh.

Get Acquainted Social

The Junior Class began their year of activities with the Get-Acquainted social which was held on Hardy Green. Don Irwin, junior student council representative, was in charge. After a brief welcome a skit was presented after which everyone played games and relays. Refreshments were served after the recreation.

Student Head Residents

This year the dormitories of Trevecca are again filled to capacity. As a result two students, Sarah Casdorph and Shelby Henderson have been chosen as head residents of Smith Hall and Gibbs Hall.

Sarah Casdorph, of Charleston, West Virginia is an education-psychology major and English minor. She is now presently employed by the Federal Express Corporation in Nashville. After graduation from college, Sarah plans to teach elementary school.

Shelby Henderson, a junior at Trevecca plans to teach school in the elementary grades. She is an education-psychology major and English minor. Last year she attended Hind Junior College in Raymond, Mississippi where she was a member of the Phi Theta Kappa.

S. C. President Speaks

Dear Students:

Welcome to a brand new school year! It has finally come whether or not we are ready for its arrival. This new year for Trevecca Nazarene College and its students will doubtless be accompanied by success, failure, joy, and sorrow. The things which are in store for each of us are unknown and unrevealed. Even at this early hour let us propose that we will make the best of whatever may be our lot by working diligently to improve the situations over which we have control and by accepting the uncontrollable ones with good sportsmanship, knowing that "all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose."

For the student council and as its president I give you my best wishes for a good purposeful and eventful school year. Shall we all contribute the talents we have to make TNC a better place this year. May it be said that every student participates in the activities of Trevecca Nazarene College. I urge each one to unite and work and study with all diligence. Get the most from this new college year by giving the most!

The Lord has many things for us spiritually if we will dare to meet with Him daily and live close to Him every moment. This is the surest foundation we can hope to lay for a successful school year. May these words serve as a challenge to your heart to do your part spiritually and pray until the fire of the Holy Spirit falls on us all anew. With His presence is joy and blessing and unity!

Once again may I say, "Welcome" to you all. Freshmen, we are happy and privileged to have you with us for the coming four years. New transfer students, we trust that you will feel at home among us. Returning students, it is a pleasure to have you back again for another term. I hope that each of us will feel that this is his school and that he is welcome to enjoy the best that it offers in every respect.

Your student council president,
Dale H. Melton

WHO ARE YOU?

The main question asked by all students on campus for the last few weeks has been "Who are you?" Everyone is anxious to meet new people and kindle new friendships. Each person has his own special personality and attributes that unite to produce a unique individual, an individual that can contribute to society.

First, who are you spiritually? Are you that person who jumps up in the morning so full of zip and go-getting enthusiasm that daily devotions would be the last thing to enter your mind? Maybe you're that person who is so tired in the evening that it is an effort even to pull back the cover to drop into bed. Perhaps you are one of those too few who have a daily contact with the Almighty which results in a blessing to everyone.

Next, who are you academically? Are you that person who lets his outside reading and term papers collect dust until the end of the quarter? A last minute plunge into study for that important test is almost useless. Consistent study and concentration are essential for learning. Frequent absences and habitual tardiness are no way to impress a professor to give you an "A" for the quarter's work. Good grades can even become a habit!

Who are you physically? Vitamin pills and nerve pills soon lose their effectiveness. A good wholesome diet and sufficient rest can do wonders for the body. Athletics provide good physical exercise that can keep you in excellent condition.

Last, who are you socially? Are you the most promising wallflower on campus or have you developed into that obnoxious "life of the party" type of person? Social graces are not inherited but are learned. As long as you have to live with people you might as well be liked by them.

Who are you? If you're at your best spiritually, academically, physically, and socially, you can be an outstanding student as well as a credit to the society in which you live. Let us all work this year to be at our best in each of these areas.

WHAT CAN WE DO TO CREATE MORE SCHOOL SPIRIT?

1. TNC has a beautiful campus. Its rolling acres and colonaded buildings lend a dignified atmosphere so desirable for an institution of higher learning. Few colleges have a campus so spacious and well suited to the activities of the student body.

There is, though, one glaring fault of the campus—untidiness—as manifested by the empty soft drink cans lying around, and the scraps of paper littering the walks. A visitor to our school may be impressed by the buildings and the equipment, but may go away with a bad impression when he sees that we, the students, don't care enough to keep the lawns neat. Why drop a candy wrapper on the lawn where there is a trash can just a few yards further down the walk? Do you just have to forget that pop can by a bench when you finish your drink? And do you have to take shortcuts across the grass? The extra second you take to use the walks will give the greenery a chance to grow.

Now! Are you going to help us keep the campus clean and beautiful, or are you going to be a bum and make my campus, your campus, OUR campus look like a hog-pen? The decision is yours. If each student will exert a small effort, unsightly trash can be kept in its proper place—the waste bin. Phase 1. Let's have a campus to be proud of!

Meet Your Staff

The new Trev-Echoes editor this year is Marilyn Baldwin. A math major and biology minor, she plans to teach after obtaining her Master's degree from Peabody College. A junior, and from Louisville, Kentucky, she was president of the Math Club and Kentucky Club last year and also was associate editor of Trev-Echoes.

John Sugg, from Clarksville, Tennessee, is the new business manager. A biology major and psychology minor, he plans to enter the medical profession in the field of psychiatry. John was president of the freshman class last year and toured the southeastern zone with the Evangelaires Quartet this summer.

This year the entire staff is working together to build more school spirit and to portray the life of the college. Several members of the staff are taking the course in journalism.

Looking Back...

"My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle"—JOB 9:25

Job, looking back on a life of honor and godly influence, was the author of these words. Retrospect is for the man who has lived long enough to look back with some authority and philosophy. Youth, with all its capabilities and resources, is limited to the forward look, the wistful and the fancied. It has no eyes of time-tested wisdom, little realization of the scope of life; it must push forward in new territory and forge its own steel. Try as the world might, it cannot instill the lubrication of experience into the young veins without serious coagulation.

Early adults must find a formula to legend and life. The hardest things to do are the first things. Making good thinking a habit, encounters of day to day experience, are a few of many simple complications that "weigheth down the mind that museth upon many things." By-and-by when the days of vitality and youthful spring are "sprung," the little things that affect gracious living and godly influence will pre-eminently take the throne of your thinking.

Godly advice will profit youth. "Leave not a stain in thine honour" and though "we spend our days as a tale that is told" we will have treasures in heaven and gold in our hearts. —Thom Houseman

Safe Driving

You watch the guy who drives ahead, and the guy who drives behind. You watch to the left, you watch to the right. You drive with a calm, clear mind. But the guy you really have to watch on the highway, you will find, is the guy behind the guy ahead, and ahead of the guy behind.

CURRENT NEWS

AS SEEN BY JIM SEXTON

By way of introduction to a type of writing which is novel to Trev-Echoes, it seems appropriate that you should be informed as to the purpose of such an article.

Our materials will not consist of routine facts, for they are so temporal, but rather of generalized news acted upon by the minds found within and without the intellectual boundaries of TNC.

If you are disturbed, even offended, by this article — GOOD! This may enforce action of thought upon you. You are an individual. It is our objective to enrich the thought life of the individual at our college.

There may be good ideas brought into focus as the news of the world around us is paralleled to the philosophies found within a Christian institution such as TNC.

A RECONAISSANCE BASE?

It is a well-known fact by this time that Cuba, which has become a Communist satellite with the aid of capitalistic funds in the past, is now openly receiving arms from Soviet Russia. No one arms himself unless he expects to meet force. It is unlikely that Cuba expects any open attack by the United States; it is equally doubtful that Cuba would attempt an open attack in the near future. But where could there be a more strategically located reconnaissance base for the U.S.S.R. than just ninety miles off our shore?

Dean Rusk told a closed door meeting of the House that the United States would never tolerate Cuba's becoming an offensive military base, but termed their present action as "defensive." Will U.S. make her usual blunder of "too little too late?"

Send your inquiries or disagreements to box 456.

CWA REPORT

By Martha Hord

Welcome to the Freshman and Upperclassmen from the Christian Worker's Association!

Much preparation and planning has contributed to getting the CWA started off to a year packed with many new and profitable activities.

From the size of the agenda, it will take the help of everyone working together to accomplish our goals this year. Let us all prepare for a busy and fruitful year in Christian work!

"ALL OUT FOR SOULS" is our theme and burden for 1962-63. To reach these lost souls a goal of distributing 100,000 tracts has been set.

A series of services for each quarter are being anticipated to help us be better workers and Christians. Keep alert for the announcement of the dates! Several committees have also been appointed to keep events running smoothly.

As we begin this year with new ideas and renewed zeal, let us also keep in mind the end of the year. We must not lose this enthusiasm but keep it high all through the coming months. It is just as important to finish a task successfully as it is to begin with promise. "Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof." (Ecclesiastes 7:8) Don't be guilty of falling by the wayside or taking a back seat.

"And be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work; for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts." (Haggai 2:4)

Library Staff Organizes

The Mackey Library staff was organized and introduced to their duties at their first meeting, Tuesday night, September 11, 1962. Mrs. Mackey and Mr. Jernigan presided.

After the work schedule was completed, the staff members toured the library to become better acquainted with their duties.

Those who will be serving the student body in the library are: E. Ray Kohser, Virginia; Jeanne Thrasher and Juanita Geise, Indiana; Gene Glenn, Ester Hyatt, and John Schortinghouse, Florida; Ruth Ellen May, West Virginia; June Riddle, Kentucky; Marilyn Foskey, Georgia; and Patsy Broach, Tennessee.

Woman has recently been placed at a disadvantage. Man can now travel faster than sound.

Candid Campus

By ERBIN BAUMGARDNER

Writing a campus column has its own problems, but when a fellow has to crawl through the Trev-Echoes window to get to a typewriter, that's too much. Like I was saying, problems. It had occurred to me that I could write a "Dear Erbin" column, but the correspondence would be unbearable, and the population of canine owners is so extinct, that "You and Your Pooch" would be ridiculous. The answers to my problem is "Candid Campus," the light side of TNC.

And while on the subject of lights, have you ever seen Trevecca totally dark? The other night, for some strange reason, ALL the lights were off. Pitch black. Charley even got lost. . . .

An epidemic of the bug has spread over the campus . . . ; Volkswagens everywhere. But Fred Cobbs won't be outdone. He rides a TEN-speed bicycle to work. . . .

Fred was telling me this summer that he is interested in starting a pep band so that each game can have a little support. If you bang on anything, see Fred. A new program, OPERATION SCHOOL SPIRIT. . . .

Another suggestion has crossed my path: a school flag with a purple and white design. Here is an opportunity for the Art Club to shine. POINTS . . . ?

A Senior House . . . Sharon Marlin, Earline Mason, Sharon Norrick, Mary Lou Tiemann, Janice Adams, Carolyn Collins, and Nancy Wills are sharing the joys of off campus living together. . . .

I was talking to Phyllis Buss, a junior, about her summer travels. It only takes 2 hours and 43 seconds to go to the top of "The Needle"—two hours in line, 43 seconds going up. Her personal comment on the World's Fair, "Science Exhibits."

Ken Hemmerly, senior, spent his vacation in basic training at Jacksonville, Florida. Ken is in the Naval Reserves, serving in the med core. He had interesting experiences in the lab. . . .

Speaking of Doctors, no that wasn't Ben Casey you saw on Campus, rather his card says, "Joseph Allen Sandifer, Live Room Curator and Herpetologist of the Children's Museum." I tried to figure this out, and the only logical answer I could find was . . . he feeds the snakes.

A Freshman boy approached me in all of a Freshman's innocence and asked, "Is this really the marriage capitol of the world?" THIRTY EIGHT couples married this summer and the casualty list is still growing. Dr. Wise commented on this, quote, "For not being a mill with the proper machinery, we sure turn out a lot of grist." unquote. Ruth says I shouldn't comment. . . .

And for what it's worth, the Costas are having trouble at the book store. It seems no one can find the entrance. It has an EXIT, but no entrance. . . .

Miss McClain, may I print this? . . . Miss McClain is one of our most appreciated music teachers. In fact, her summer school class thought so much of her test, Beethoven, Chopin, etc., that they sent her a one-way ticket to Kankakee. I may be confused in this area, but I think she is a fond lover of country and western music, also. . . .

I love a finished writer, I really, truly do. I don't mean one who's polished, I just mean one who's through. . . .

PROFS TRAVEL THIS SUMMER

Some of the faculty vacationed during this summer and got away from the routine of the year. Among these were the Redfords who toured the Holy Lands.

Mr. and Mrs. Redford left New York August 12 by plane and reached Jerusalem, Jordan August 14. From here they toured various parts of the Holy Land such as the Hebron, tomb of Abraham and Isaac, Bethlehem, the birthplace of Christ, Jericho, River Jordan, and the Dead Sea. While in Jerusalem, Jordan, Rev. Redford preached in the Armenian church where the Nazarine missionaries, Rev. and Mrs. Berle Najarian are stationed.

In Jerusalem, Jordan, they visited the Palastine Archaeological Museum, the Garden of Gethsemane, the Mount of Olives and even walked on the supposed path that Christ walked on Palm Sunday.

In Ammon, the capitol of Jordan, the Redfords were presented to the king, a highlight never to be forgotten.

In Jerusalem, Israel, the burial place of King David as well as the Room of the Last Supper were visited.

Three days were spent around the Lake of Galilee. Here they saw the ruins of Capernaum. They also visited Kibbutz, a communal collective settlement.

On their return to America the Redfords stopped in London where they visited John Wesley's Church. They arrived in Nashville, August 31 in time for early school activities.

Professor Ramon Unruh and his family vacationed in the West this summer for a month.

After visiting the campus of Bethany Nazarene College in Bethany, Oklahoma, the Unruhs joined their relatives in Colorado Springs, Colorado, for a family reunion.

Points of interest on the trip were Pike's Peak, Colorado, and the Air Force Academy in Colorado. Interesting features of the academy are the one-fourth mile long dormitory and the seventeen spiral chapel in which Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish services may be held simultaneously.

Miss Eula Jean Stephen, bookkeeper at TNC, along with relatives and Gwen Pearson, a former student of TNC, drove by way of a southern route to California. They visited Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and Yosemite National Park. While in San Francisco they viewed the famous Golden Gate Bridge and also toured China Town.

On their return trip Miss Stephen visited her brother, stationed at Hill Air Force Base outside of Salt Lake City, Utah. From here her brother traveled with the group. On the return trip they were able to visit the Great Salt Lake Desert, Grand Canyon, and the Painted Desert.

Dr. and Mrs. Greathouse and family vacationed around the New England campgrounds in North Reading, just outside of Boston, Massachusetts. Dr. Greathouse shared the pulpit with Dr. Purkiser during the campmeeting.

From there they visited the Adirondacks and toured New York state. They then crossed the Thousand Island Bridge into Canada and traveled along the northern shores of Lake Ontario and then on to Niagara Falls.

Professor and Mrs. Knight and John, Jr. spent one week in sunny Florida. Orlando and Miami were the key cities visited as they both have relatives living there. Time out for horse back riding was of course included.

Fashions

By ANN VAN HOOK

How many times have you asked yourself, "Just what should I wear?" Every community has its own rules and usually a person learns what is right by trial and error. Trevecca is our community; so to help you avoid an excess of errors, here is a thumbnail list of what to wear:

To class: skirts or jumpers with blouses and sweaters, simple dresses, low heel shoes (avoid frills or socks except in very cold weather.)

To church on Sunday: conservative dresses, simple hats, gloves, and plain shoes. Sport clothes are out of place as are clothes worn for display.

On Wednesday: dressy blouses, casual suits or nice simple dresses, high heels or dressy flats.

To school programs: for Friday night: dress the same as for church on Wednesday night. Special concerts, recitals or lectures are more formal and nice cotton or woolen dresses, knits or jersey and high heels are appropriate.

To banquets: Freshman-Sophomore: nice dressy dresses, but nothing which resembles a formal; high heels.

Valentine: The prettiest formal you can buy or borrow. Long and short formals are equally popular. Evening flats are worn; however, heels are more popular.

To public places of entertainment: for public concerts — anything from simple wool dresses to dull satin or velvet with heels and gloves is best. For informal afternoon entertainment, wear nice school clothes.

To town: better school clothes, shoes for comfortable walking.

Having the right clothes does not mean having a lot of clothes. Emily Post tells us, "There is scarcely anywhere that you cannot fittingly go in plain clothes."

Recollections of Summer School

The students of TNC of this summer were provided with a wonderful opportunity to study in the comfort of an air-conditioned library.

There was an extensive remodeling program underway during which time Hardy Hall and McKay Hall received numerous alterations including rewiring and new closets.

On the Fourth of July, the faculty gave the students a picnic. Approximately 160 people assembled on Hardy Green for the picnic lunch. Included in the menu were bar-b-cued chicken, baked beans, potato salad, and ice tea, a real treat for hungry scholars. After lunch everyone went to the athletic field for the traditional faculty-student softball game. The students won the game, 17-3. Everyone had a wonderful time and probably will never forget the antics of Marilyn Foskey, Ray Kohser, Sharron Marlin and Emory Garner.

Later in the month of July at the ice-cream social on the patio behind McKay Hall the students enjoyed a refreshing lift from the hot weather. Everyone joined in the time of singspiration and was challenged to live for Christ by the devotional talk given by Al Truesdale.

During the second session of summer school the atmosphere of Hawaii fell upon the students as they gathered to the decorated tennis court for TNC's first Hawaiian Luau. The court was decorated with lanterns, a small grass shack, and a Hawaiian table, draped with burlap sacks. Hawaiian food and entertainment provided just the right amount of fun for the approximately fifty students that attended.

Four Groups Travel

Summer Groups Complete Tour

Four groups of students, the Evangelaires Quartet, the Ambassador Quartet, the Treva-Tone Trio, and a mixed trio toured the Southeastern Zone representing Trevecca this summer. A synopsis of each group is as follows:

"We, the Ambassador Quartet, traveled 12,000 miles in an eighty-one day period of time. During our tour we held services in eight states and visited three more. Our itinerary permitted us also to tour Washington, D.C. We closed our last service in Lewisburg, Tennessee, with the 700th song of the tour.

"Our tour of the Southeastern Educational Zone proved to be rewarding and interesting. The Southern Nazarenes treated us with genuine Southern hospitality. We were treated royally.

"The high points on this tour were the district assemblies and camp-meetings. It blessed us to feel God's presence in these services.

"Each of us—Myron, Barney, Jerry and I—have benefitted from this summer's travels. Each is wiser, more spiritual and more deeply aware of the spirituality of the church in this zone."

—Al Hayes

"What goes together to make a good summer perfect? Meeting a variety of people, visiting several states, eating fried chicken, and staying extremely busy—yes, we of the Treva-Tone Trio all agree and say to you, "It was wonderful!"

"In addition to meeting different people each night in every church, we had a variety of leaders to accompany us. Miss Marie Peery or "Mom," was the brave one who endured our capers for almost six weeks. She turned us over to Dr. F. F. Wise and his daughter, Martha, who shared our bout of fried chicken—we had it almost every day! Our next leaders were Rev. and Mrs. Jess Middendorf. We experienced some grand times at the Gulf of Mexico with "Mama Mart" and "Papa Mid" as we called them. Then, last but definitely not least, "Mom" and "Pop" Keys took on the noisy crew of Sharon Norrick, Barbara Stiles, and Suzanna McManus.

"We participated in services in seven states and visited in five others. Truly, we feel that this summer has been an opportunity to serve and worship our King and Master."

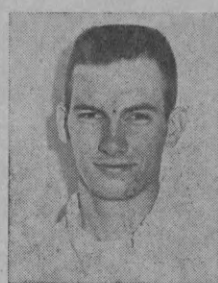

—Suzanna McManus

"The first two weeks of our trip were spent in small cool mining towns in and around the Charleston area of West Virginia. Here many amusing incidents occurred leaving memories to be stored away for our grandchildren.

For the first half of the tour we did as much chuckling as we did singing. Chicken—delicious fried; baked; broiled; boiled chicken — you name it, we had it—for two (Continued on Page 4)

THE TALLY BOX

by Jimmy Stocks

The freshmen have done the impossible! They whipped the upperclassmen 13-10 in the annual softball game. This is the first time that this has happened.

The great catcher and lead-off man for the frosh—Steve Oliver, drew a walk from upperclassman pitcher, Parker Nettles. The next man drew a walk which put two men on base. The next two popped out and again a man was walked, loading the bases.

The next man was big Eddie Patterson. Two balls were pitched and then a strike. The next pitch was when it happened—a fast ball right across the plate and a little above the belt line. Smack!! Over the right fielder's head, Jim Young, and deep into right field for a grand slam home run!

The upperclassmen then settled down and played harder. Then playing improved when the guy with that great slow ball, Dave Jones, relieved Nettles on the mound.

The upperclassmen were ahead only one time in the game and lost 13-10.

The "greenies" made the best of defensive play but the upperclassmen made the best defensive play when David Stuki made a beautiful catch of a third out pop foul when he sprinted some fifty yards and made a diving leap to come up with the ball.

weeks straight. And then there were eggs—we didn't know that there were so many different ways to serve an egg. We didn't, but we do!

"It was our privilege to be in six different youth camps and one camp-meeting. Here we met many of the new students, several old friends and some of the officials and best speakers in the Church—Jim Crabtree, Dr. Mendell Taylor, John Hancock, and Paul Skiles.

"One of the most amazing things of the tour was the friendliness and response of the people. This summer really proved to us that not only are Christians the same wherever you go, but Nazarenes are too.

"Much was gained by all of us as a result of our ten weeks travels — approximately fifteen pounds each, a new grey hair or two for Lois (Wade's driving), three or four grey hairs for Wade (Lois' driving), and a wealth of experience that can never be replaced or surpassed. We thank the Lord for his protection and guidance over the weeks, and we thank Trevecca for the wonderful privilege of carrying her message to the people across the Southeastern Zone."

Linda Hulse School Nurse

Our new school nurse, Mrs. Linda Hulse, hails from Kissimmee, Florida.

Graduating from high school in 1958, Mrs. Hulse ranked among the top six of her graduating class. She was a member of the National Honor Society, the annual staff, and a representative to Girl's State.

While in nurse's training at Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando, Florida, she was selected as the most professional nurse of her graduating class. She also held the position of vice-president of her senior nursing class.

After receiving her R.N. degree, she worked in Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando, Florida, and in Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Her husband, Henry, has served in the United States Marines for six years, and is presently employed in New Orleans, Louisiana. He plans to enroll at Trevecca in January and study Christian education and x-ray technology. Mrs. Hulse's interests lie in the fields of Christian education and science.

Their future plans are to serve as missionaries to South Africa.
